

What does a positive test mean if I don't have symptoms?

When there is virus in the sample, the test is very effective at picking it up. Even if a person with COVID-19 has fully recovered and is no longer contagious, they may still test positive. The significance of a positive test if you have never had symptoms is still unknown. You should self-isolate and monitor for symptoms as directed by Peterborough Public Health.

Can the test determine if I had COVID-19 in the past (but not now)?

No. This is not an antibody/serology test. This swab test only determines if you have COVID-19 at the time the test is collected. Currently, antibody/serology tests are not yet available in Ontario.

Can I be tested again if I have already been assessed/tested for COVID-19?

Yes. If you feel you may have been exposed to COVID-19 or you have developed new symptoms since you were last assessed or tested, you may be assessed and/or tested again.

I've been tested for COVID-19. Now what?

Peterborough Public Health has developed a detailed instruction sheet for people who have been tested for COVID-19. Please request a copy of these instructions when you are being tested. You can also download a copy at www.peterboroughpublichealth.ca.

What does a negative test mean?

If you test negative for COVID-19, you probably were not infected at the time your sample was collected. This does not mean you will not get sick. It also does not mean that you will not be exposed to, test positive for or become sick with COVID-19 at any time after your test. The test result only means that you likely did not have COVID-19 at the time of testing.

Even if your test result comes back negative, it is important to continue following all recommended precautions to prevent the spread of illness between yourself and others:

- Clean your hands well and frequently
- Keep two metres away from other people in shared spaces
- Wear a handmade mask in public areas where maintaining social distance is more challenging (e.g. the grocery store)
